Sources & directory notes

Scope, naming and visual assets

How to use this directory

Universities are sorted by their displayed names. Website links are clickable. Multi-campus institutions appear once, with selected locations. Overseas institutions without a separately recognised UK university are excluded.

Scope

The main section follows university names in the UK university directory, with the University of the Built Environment added. The appendix contains selected specialist higher education institutions; these are not all universities. The directory is a practical reference, not an official legal recognition register.

Current names and groups

Southampton Solent University uses its current name. City St George's follows the 2024 merger and links to its current website. Greenwich and Kent remain separate university brands within LASE University Group following the 2026 merger. The University of Greater Manchester and University of Lancashire appear under their current names.

Logos and brand icons

Marks were obtained from linked university websites and university website icons. Where a full logo could not be downloaded, a compact website brand icon is used. Marks are reproduced for identification and remain the property of their respective institutions; inclusion does not imply endorsement.
